

City Lord's Day Alliance Pledges Fight Against Paid Sunday Symphony Concerts

By JACK FRY

The Victoria Lord's Day Alliance group will oppose Sunday afternoon concerts given by the Victoria Symphony Orchestra. Mr. Higgins, president of the Victoria Lord's Day Alliance committee, said yesterday that he had been informed that Mr. Higgins is charged Rev. A. J. Higgins is president of the Victoria Lord's Day Alliance committee.

Jack Barrington, president of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra, said yesterday that he has no objection of being scared off by the orchestra.

Mr. Higgins commented on the Victoria Lord's Day Alliance's action after he had been informed that the Victoria Symphony Orchestra may be prosecuted on a charge of violating the Lord's Day Act.

Mr. Higgins is president of the Victoria Lord's Day Alliance committee.

REV. A. J. HIGGINS
... it's the law

money for permission to go on.

The Victoria Symphony has already given two Sunday concerts in the current season, which were given at 3 p.m., but it is scheduled for 3 p.m. next Sunday when Montreal violinist Betty-Jean Hagen will play a concert on the Victoria stage.

Mr. Higgins said, "We certainly oppose any infringement of the Lord's Day Act."

The Lord's Day Alliance will oppose Sunday afternoon concerts as long as admission is charged," he said. "The group does not object to concerts where everyone goes home only when they finish the thing." Mr. Higgins said.

Mr. Higgins said, "If they want to force people into the church, they can do that good deed in one of the best ways to observe the Lord's Day."

Mr. Higgins said, "I would like to see more people observe that good deed in one of the best ways to observe the Lord's Day."

A Victoria shop and a church plan for new store units should be open.

There are no intentions of holding a car off my friends and I am going to continue to the concert," he said.

"A lot of the tickets for the Sunday concert are sold in advance of the service," he said.

Sudbury's Powerful Sister Arrives

Fusill-carried and face-beaten, the powerful sahara tow Sudbury II berthed in her new home port of Victoria for the first time yesterday after an 11-day, 10,000-mile voyage from Australia. The Sudbury's sister ship, Island Tow and Barge Ltd., is the largest privately-owned tug in the world. And on hand to greet the ship were Darin, 5, and Marla, 4, daughters of Capt. Roy Blake, 1678 North Dairy Road, who is a tugboat skipper for Island Tow and Barge Ltd. (Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

Doukhobor Migration Farce, Says Bonner

Just Want It in Writing Declares Sect's Lawyer

VANCOUVER (CP)—Harry Rankin, a lawyer retained by the Doukhobor Colony of Freedom Douglastown, said today new regulations sought by the sect on planned moves to Russia are "fully justified and no reason for anyone getting difficult."

"The Sons of Freedom simply want a concrete contract now that they have gathered 2,300 signatures of intent," he said.

Death Crash Blamed On Speed, Weather

COWICHAN — A combination of driving smashed into a power pole high speed and adverse weather conditions caused a car crash in which Richard Davis Read, 26, of RCAF Station, Cowichan, was killed yesterday. The court heard he had been driving at 100 km. an hour on a wet and slippery road when he lost control of his car.

The attorney, formerly of Winsloch, was fatally injured Friday night when the car he was driving crashed.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner spoke out to the B.C. mainland yesterday afternoon, presumably in connection with the proposed legislation to prohibit Doukhobor migration to Russia, which he termed a "farce."

Mr. Bonner said he would be asked to report more fully on the matter when he appears before the legislature later this month.

Following new demands made by the Doukhobor Monday, Mr. Bonner said, "I hope to submit a report to the government to reduce the whole thing to the level of a farce. I don't think the government has much interest in continuing a farce."

He said new regulations from the Doukhobor Colony of Freedom Douglastown, which called for grants of grants, release of children from New Denver schools and payment of fares to Russia, were not met by the government deadline so did not form part of the scheme.

"There is not too much of everything that would be acceptable," Mr. Bonner said. "I would accept some things, but not all of them."

In returning a verdict of second-degree murder, Justice Conner Thomas Mentesie "ex-convict" said he had been given a high speed a letter from the Doukhobors to the court that he had signed. Yesterday he said he knew of no one who had signed the document.

Mr. Bonner said he had been advised to give a copy of the letter to the court.

Faiths of the World, Unite! Cries Leader

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—America's leading Protestant churchman last night called for a worldwide ecumenical movement.

The Rev. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, president of the Christian Church of America, told 100 delegates to the international conference that he wished to see the coming together of Jewish, Christian, Moslem, Hindu and other religious groups.

Mr. Dahlberg, addressing a meeting of religious leaders, said, "Man is being reduced to the status of a mere animal when he loses his sense of distinction as between a atom bomb and an unclean beast."

'Powder Keg' Under Bridge

... this is to me.

Scenes of school children crossing a Saanich bridge daily have been walking over a potential "powder keg" capable of blowing up the side of a mountain.

The danger was exposed yesterday when a series of 80 per cent "fibre" sticks of dynamite were found on the bridge, one in the water and on the banks under the small footbridge on the Saanich peninsula.

The bridge is used to cross the river between Saanich and McKeown's Landing, and from McKeown's Landing to Saanich.

DANGERON FIND

The explosive came perched on a wooden board used by a compensation board says compensation should be extended to all employees against any harm.

J. Edwin Kates told the B.C. Workmen's Compensation Board yesterday.

"In the U.S. workmen's compensation is cut down to a fine," he said. "We have had to lay off 100 men because of the cost of insurance."

The board said its plan to expand the scheme had failed in the last year.

In my opinion it is perfectly feasible and logical to extend the compensation program to all workers, including those who are younger, less able to handle and less able to afford the scheme," he said.

Children at Risk

Children and adults were asked to report more information to the compensation board, he said.

Mr. Kates said he is type of unusual compensation plan that is being worked out.

"This would welcome a new kind of power around Victoria," he said.

He said new regulations would be issued to cover the matter.

Mr. Kates said he would be asked to report more fully on the matter when he appears before the legislature later this month.

Defence Urges Full Acquittal

By H. L. JONES

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Crown opened the summation of its case against former provincial forests minister Robert Sommers Tuesday, detailing the evidence it says shows he got more than $8,000 in bribes.

Sommers, 50, was charged with accepting $1,000 and the lesser sum of $500 from timber contractors in 1956 and 1957. The amount of the money accepted is not known. Sommers has denied the charges, saying he was not influenced by the bribe.

Mr. Sommers' defense team has argued that the crown's evidence is not strong enough to sustain a conviction.

ALLABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

Some people have a way with clocks, just as some people have a way with vegetation (green thumb) and others have a way for dogs, cats, fish or radios.

But clocks and watches don't like me. I don't know whether it's my fault that stops them, or whether I'm the wrong kind of electricity running through my veins.

Until recently there were four clocks in our house, all registering different times and all of them wrong.

The first was a radio with a built-in clock which would set the radio every morning automatically. It really did run for a time which is unusual for a clock in the house.

But both the radio and clock died—stricken with evil, I suppose, by some especially nauseating combination of circumstances.

Watches don't like me any better than clocks do. In boyhood I used to keep a pocket watch which would run for a week, then burst into a gallop. I had one particularly stout specimen of the SW 1 watch in my pocket while climbing up a steep hill. When I pulled it out it was going perfectly. I wore it until I fell over a rock and it was perfectly stopped. Since then, on a pocket, a watch seems to stop from whatever time it has set its electric current flow through my flesh and sinews and return to the same old wrist watch.

The new clock is something else entirely, on the wall. But I suppose it is a young and unseasoned clock, knowing nothing of the terrors of life.

I suspect that I and my home are haunted by a poltergeist which has wandered in from eternity and is causing us trouble. I am not afraid. It will only be a question of days and hours before the poltergeist lays a stick hand on our new clock. I suspect.

Well, I wouldn't quarrel with the poltergeist if he stopped all the clocks in the world. I've heard those who say that when all the world's clocks stop, I'm sorry to say, all the other clocks in the world go round lessly on.

Benefit to Game Bright Spot in Bad Fire Year

Only bright spot in British Columbia's disastrous fire season this year is the benefit which will accrue to B.C. game experts say. The grouse, ptarmigan and deer and blue grouse production has increased, R. Y. Edwards said yesterday.

"We don't say burn the country for the game, but it is a bright spot in an otherwise black picture," he said. "The new summer growth east as far as the Rockies is excellent, other vegetation that will come up in the burned areas will be good for game animals."

"Deer and blue grouse and some other game animals and birds are never very abundant. In dense forest, but remove the undergrowth, there will be more like compound interest," he said.

This year $100,000 in British Columbia cost $1,342,191 in fire-fighting costs and many times that in timber lost, but the thousands of burned over acres have a place where there was none before. This year we got in a place where many small ptarmigan flocks were scattered about," he said.

"Carrion from the past, especially with logging industry have made British Columbia, and especially Vancouver Island, a better game country the blue grouse and deer than we ever had before," he said.

Mr. Edwards said:

"We feel the Burnt Lake fire made no major damage. Had good weather, but there was a lot of smoke and the winds would probably increase in fire and ash-laden areas."

He said there would have been a fair amount of suffering among animals in forest fires this summer but that biological factors had been so good that there should increase in fire and ash-laden areas," he said.

He said this year there has been a sharp increase in the number of animals in forest fires this summer but that biological factors had been so good that there should increase in fire and ash-laden areas," he said.

Gyro Leaders

Meeting Nov. 9

The controversial proposal to split Saanich into two separate townships came up again yesterday at a meeting of the Saanich Residents' Association by Reeve George Charlton.

The issue has been hotly debated by the residents of the southern half of Saanich since the first tentative stages of a proposed town plan were last night presented to the public.

"There is a good deal of interest in the proposal," said Mr. Charlton. "It is a rather sensible break and we are in favour of it," he said. Mr. Charlton, who has been a member of the Residents' Association, said amalgamation reporting coming up and does not know the reason. It recommends amalgamation of the northern part of Saanich but automatically leaves the southern part of Saanich intact.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My problem happened too long ago for you to do anything about it but I decided to write and perhaps someone else might profit from my experience.

I married an alcoholic this past summer. He had been a good man before he became an alcoholic. I was still my love would come back and we lived happily ever after.

After eight years of being very good to him, I divorced and barged on. I gave up my hair, my make-up, my lips, and broken ribs. My ex-husband is now serving 60 days in prison for assault (I didn't put him there). He has sent me newspaper clippings from the mail which quotes an Ohio psychiatrist as saying "broken wives start more trouble."

It's All in Fun

Dear Ann: I have a little girl 21 years old. My sister who is 20 is the mother of a boy. My daughter is no statistician but she says her cousin, but she doesn't mention any harm. It's all in fun.

Yesterday I happened to be visiting our relatives and saw some nephews, a boy & a girl. Her mother was stating that she had nothing to do outside and just went outside and what happened was, as both kids were.

My sister said Sharon had hit her son. I said "Well, I said 'Don't you think it's time you taught your son it's not right to hit people?'" She replied: "My son has been hitting his mother. She then grabbed her."

Dying to Date

DEAR ANN: I'm a girl of 16 who feels like the north end of a log. I have been requested a date with a fellow who is a bit older than I am, a girl for over a year and had just broken up.

As I wanted to move and then for a ride. He said he had been away for six months but couldn't get out of his steady's clothes. He then asked if I wanted me more than anything else in the world. I said "Yes."

The next day he spied the word that I was a pushover. I held three phone calls about him. He then said "I'll see you again and I feel like the village idiot." How do I clear myself? — The Sop.

on the road to alcoholism than any single factor.

The big shot is trying to blame his drinking on me because I'm the one who appealed to him to give up the bottle. I'm afraid he'll never be able to be a full-blown alcoholic again.

Please advise. Yours truly,

Elaine [redacted]

was short and sweet: "Who wants to be a pushover?" I met your wife?"

He then read my letter in simple: "Alcoholism is a disease. Marriage above is no guarantee against it. Heavy drinkers are marrying young persons. An approach to the social drinker should probably be a full-blown alcoholic again."

Please advise. Yours truly,

Elaine [redacted]

They were ordered to make restitution.

Highway Cleanup Demanded

LADYSMITH — Clean-up of rubbish and bottles along Island highways carried on by the provincial government, the Minister of Transport, Sam Sargan, said, should be done every summer, the Chamber of Commerce moved.

"It should be done each year before the tourists leave," Chairman Frank Van Houten urged. "Clean highways would give visitors a favorable impression immediately."

City Leaders Fight Bylaw

PORT ALBERNI — The mayor went to help in establishing a bylaw against the use of fireworks.

But Mr. Clay agreed to concentrate on the explosives regulation, which he said was more important.

The bylaw to ban fireworks on the floor was introduced by Alderman G. E. T. and Ald. W. C. Hamilton.

It should be mounted so that no one will be won over to set off fireworks.

Ald. Hamilton said the referendum was a good idea, but was therefore dangerous to the public and the people in force something else.

"We've got enough rules now," he said.

INCO METALS AT WORK IN CANADA

CHOOSE CANADIAN SILVERWARE...

MADE WITH INCO METALS

STRADIVARI BY
WALACE SILVERSMITHS
(CANADA) LIMITED

Lovely, lustrous Canadian originals that capture the enchanting delicacy of formal traditions... in precious silverware, the hallmark of gracious living. How richly silver reflects your own sense of style and good taste. Choose the everlasting charm of fine sterling or the enduring grace of silverplate. Your table will be far lovelier.

Much of the silver used by silversmiths for sterling and silverplate comes from Inco. Copper and nickel are also supplied by Inco in the strong nickel-silver foundation metal used in silverplate.

Although Inco is the world's largest producer of nickel, 13 other elements are also produced from the Sudbury ore—such as copper and relatively small quantities of precious metals like silver, gold, platinum and palladium. All of these have important uses in industry. That's how Inco metals serve the Canadian industries that serve you.

From October 6th to October 11th, Condé Nast will celebrate Silver Week when dealers everywhere will display their finest sterling and silverplate.
